Virtual Wards - Wednesday 17 July 1pm -2pm (Microsoft Teams)

This session will focus on how Virtual wards allow patients to get the care they need at home safely and conveniently, rather than being in hospital. Using technology, virtual wards support patients, who would otherwise be in hospital, to get the care they need in the place they call home. Please click here to book your place.

Jenny Norton will be presenting Virtual Wards and there will be an opportunity to ask questions and give comments.

LEARNING DISABILITY WEEK

This week has been Learning Disability Week and this year’s theme of ‘Do you see me?’ is about people with a learning disability being seen, heard and valued. Learn more about the part we can all play: <https://ow.ly/KKF350Si9CO>

Why annual health checks are so important for people with a learning disability

Annual Health Checks are a chance for a doctor or nurse, the person with a learning disability and those who support them to review a person’s physical and mental health.

Learning Disability Week 2024

Every year we celebrate Learning Disability Week.

It is a week where people show what life is like if you have a learning disability .

This year the theme is “Do you see me?”

“Do you see me?” is about people with a learning disability being seen, heard and valued.

Being valued means that people are respected by others, and their views and feelings are listened to.

We want Learning Disability Week to be about:

- Celebrating the things that people with a learning disability do

- Challenging the barriers that people with a learning disability face.

A barrier is something that stops someone from doing something.

Learning Disability Week starts on Monday June 17 2024.

Let’s tell everybody about Learning Disability Week 2024!

Only 26.7%

of adults with a learning disability are employed yet 86% of unemployed people with a learning disability want a paid job.

1 in 3

people with a learning disability spend less than 1 hour outside their home on a typical Saturday.

Over 2,000 people with a learning disability and/ or autistic people are currently locked away in mental health hospitals.
